Good Roads And Education

In a report made to the Minister of Education for Saskatchewan, Mr. D. S. McCannell, chief attendance officer in the province, to whom is entrusted the administration of the Compulsory School Attendance Act, says, in part, as among the reasons assigned for the absence of children from rural schools: "Impassable roads, but this is a condition which will improve as the province grows older."

In previous issues, the writer of this column has dealt with the importance and necessity of good roads in these western provinces, and also upon the absolute necessity that farm boys and girls should be given the best possible education and kept in school as long as possible. In this article we hope to make clear the hearing which the provision of good roads has upon the successful carrying out of a better schools policy and a higher average attendance at school.

There are four main groups under which every problem treated as a question of rural communities are or can be properly grouped:

First: Greater production of more intensive farming, which is primarily a question of more population on the land.

Second: Proper educational facilities for the boys and girls, or provision for a high school education without forcing parents to leave the farm at the period of their greatest production. In order to do this, children are ever start with the town boy and girl in educational equipment.

Third: Proper social and amusement facilities for the entire family as a primary means of keeping them contented with life on the farm.

Fourth: The development of a community spirit, hearty co-operation in a social and economic way, as the best means for guaranteeing the prosperity and contentment of all.

Thus, roughly, do we group the various topics which concern the relations of the people one with another, as distinguished from those which deal with those things that concern the individual farmer, such as better crops and improved livestock.

Now analyse this proposition: The solution of all these problems, the one final answer to them, the one thing that will lay the foundation that will make them possible, and leaves but details in connection with each, so be arranged, but without which success cannot be achieved, is a possible system of all-the-year good roads.

In some of our more thickly populated districts in the West, a consolidated school would mean a vast improvement over several small district schools. It would be a better school in every way, and provision for high school training would be possible. But without good roads for the conveyance of pupils the consolidated school and rural high school is impracticable, and many of such schools established in the United States have been abandoned solely because of the impossibility of transporting the school children over the existing roads.

But, it is said, it will take money to build roads. Certainly it will, and lots of it. But the city dweller cannot live in an eight or ten-room house with electric lights, hot water and other modern conveniences for the same money that he can live in a cave. He pays for those conveniences and he finds that it pays him to pay for them. So with good roads—they will more than pay for themselves.

Here in Western Canada we are somewhat inclined to look upon the Province of Quebec as backward and slow because we are not fully informed of what is transpiring there. Within the past fifteen years Quebec has been forging ahead in general agriculture, dairying and livestock raising faster than Ontario, and in some respects more rapidly and substantially than these Western Provinces. Industrially and commercially it is going ahead by leaps and bounds, and a complete transformation is taking place educationally.

What is the basis for this development in Quebec? Everyone who has studied it has but one answer: Good roads. The Province of Quebec has now the best roads in the Dominion, as far as it has gone, and it means to continue until every farmer can get his goods to market, his children to school, and his family to church, without a breakdown or being mired.

Some years ago the Provincial Government asked for authority to spend $20,000,000 on roads. Some people who think the French-Canadian habitant is pious and unprogressive might give some thought to the fact that they enthusiastically gave the necessary authority. That $20,000,000 has been spent, and Quebec now leads the Dominion in good roads. Two or three months ago the Government appealed to the people for a new mandate to keep on spending millions on good roads, the result being that a majority of Government supporters were returned by acclamation.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN

WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well, and you have a whole quater pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Britain Needs

More Modern Navy

United Kingdom And Dominions Must Furnish The Money

Vancouver, B.C.—A special cable from Sydney, N.S.W., to the Vancouver World says:

"Unless the United Kingdom and the Dominions are prepared to put their hands in their pockets it will not be possible to retain for the empire that sea supremacy which every citizen of the empire knows in his heart is vital to its existence," said Admiral Lord Jellicoe in a forceful speech delivered to a large and influential audience here.

"Lord Jellicoe went on to say that after reading the cable report of a letter written to the London Times by Lord Fisher, he was of the opinion that underlying Lord Fisher's demand for the scrapping of the present British navy was the idea that a bigger and more modern navy should be built."

Men listen when money talks. Probably that is why we sometimes hear of hush money.

Miller's Worm Powders work so effectively that no traces of worms can be found. The pests are macerated in the stomach and pass away in the stools without being perceptible. They make an entire and clean sweep of the intestines, and nothing in the shape of a worm can find lodgement there when these powders are in operation. Nothing could be more thorough or desirable than their action.

Alberta Coal Discovery

It Is Possible That Anthracite Coal Also Exists In Quantities

Twelve or more seams of high-grade bituminous coal, all of great thickness and workable, are reported to exist at the junction of the Smoky and Muskogee rivers, located north of the Canadian Northern Railway, west of Edmonton. O. S. Finnie, inspecting engineer of the mining lands branch of the department of the interior, has just returned following a month of close exploration work on behalf of the department. In addition to this high-grade bituminous fuel, it is possible, according to Mr. Finnie, that anthracite coal also exists in quantities. Samples of the product will be taken to the laboratories by Mr. Finnie, and will undergo tests for later reports to government authorities. There is much evidence that coal exists in great seams, and investigation proves that not only is the quantity large but the quality is also good.

British Airship Plans

Let Private Firms Have Advantages With Rigid Airship

London.—The government has decided to retain only two airships at the rigid type and dispose of the others in a well-organized manner that would undertake to establish a commercial airship service. This announcement was made by Air Commissioner Seely at a conference of representatives of aeronautical and engineering firms.

He added that the decision was based upon the necessity of cutting down expenses and in the belief that the best results in the future were likely to be attained by the encouragement of private enterprise.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That The Blood Is Watery And Impure

"People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons," and the form of anemia that affects growing girls is known as "headache anemia" by head-aches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant headaches, the blood in your face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by the blood than most people have any idea of. German Gold Hoard Surrendered

After the conclusion of the armistice at Spa, it was decided that Germany, before being re-occupied, must deposit with the National Bank of Brussels as guarantee 370,000,000 marks (nominally $92,500,000).

Part of this gold was placed at the disposal of the Bank at England in New York. It is now being taken from Brussels to London, whence it will be conveyed to New York in consignments of $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, guarded by escorts of Belgian soldiers.

Great Silver Deposits Located In Burma

Chinese Worked It Until Crude Appliances Failed Them

London.—At a time so long ago that the very memory of it has faded Chinese prospectors, wandering over Burma, found a silver-bearing deposit and worked it until their crude appliances failed them. Then they left it.

For centuries the workings lay abandoned and unheeded. Not many years ago the deposit was rediscovered and floated as the Burma Corporation, whose shares knocked about an uninterested market at rubbish prices.

Development and assay have now revealed the interesting fact that those long-departed yellow men left behind them one hundred millions ounces of silver, one million tons of lead, 750,000 tons of zinc, 30,000 tons of copper, the whole valued at present prices at between eighty and ninety million pounds sterling.

Pound shares have now risen to nearly ten, and a new company is to be formed in India with a capital equivalent to fifty million dollars.

Japan Violates Agreement

Is Now Placing Morphine On Sale In China

Greencastle, Ind.—"Japan is now violating the international agreement on the sale of morphine by sending the drug into China and placing it on sale there through strictly Japanese channels," declares William W. Lockwood of this city, who has spent 16 years in Young Men's Christian Association work in China, and who has been director in charge of this work at Shanghai.

"Following the shutting off of the production of opium in China," Mr. Lockwood said, "the trade for morphine with Japan grew rapidly. In the provinces or cities dominated by the Japanese the sale is heaviest. There the Japanese have established their own post office and the parcels of the morphine are sent through the Japanese mails to China and are then distributed to the consumer through Japanese druggists. The price is exceedingly high, due to the fact that the Chinese government forbids its manufacture, and the fact that it is a more powerful drug than opium."

"A newspaper in Tientsin made an investigation of the sale of morphine by the Japanese. In the capital of the Province of Shantung representatives of the newspaper purchased morphine in 200 packages."

Undue Profits Will Spell Ruin

Toronto.—Speaking at the price conference, Mr. O'Connor stated that the object of his visit was to ascertain if a fair profit could be set for other commodities in addition to sugar, the exceeding of which would mean "criminality or jail."

"They wanted to bring down the prices in such cases and then drive in rivets to keep them at that place. He prophesied that if this was not done, disaster would result, as there was a break of prices in sight, which would mean ruin to the country. The object of the board was not only to bring down prices, but to hold them down."

A. C. Pyke, speaking for the whole sale grocers, said that his guild was quite willing to have inspection of its business. The members would co-operate with the board, he said. The same was said by Robert Down, the grocers' section of the Retail Merchants' Association.

"We are going to put the rivets in and say the prices cannot go any higher, but we may have to maintain the prices of some goods," said Mr. O'Connor. "There is going to be a hard time coming soon when something is going to break. It is no good a woman paying 25 cents a dozen for eggs if her husband is going to be put out of business as the result. But unless prices are brought down quickly there will be a big break."

Against Leaving Russia To Fate

Col. John Ward Warns Britain of Real Meaning of Evacuation of Territory

London.—Col. John Ward, Labor member of the House of Commons, who has just returned from Russia, in an interview said that to desert Russians who had rallied to our standard will make our name stink in the nostrils of every non-Bolshevik in Russia. "We went to Russia to prevent the Germans from transferring men to the western front," he declared. "Are we now to say to those who rallied round us, 'You have served our turn, we are going. We wish you luck?'

"That, said Col. Ward, is unthinkable. It would be black treachery to leave them to face the enemies they have made for our sakes without anything more substantial than our goodwill."

British Monitor Was Not Raided

London.—It is declared in official quarters that there is no truth in the report that a party of Sinn Féiners on a recent night had boarded a British monitor off Cork, overpowered the skeleton crew and raided the vessel. The report, printed in the Daily News, added that the raiders had escaped with a quantity of rifles, munitions and valuable instruments.

Omaha.—General headquarters of the Kolkach army announced that the offensive was being pressed successfully against the Siberian front. The enemy is being driven back everywhere with severe losses, the announcement says, and has been compelled to abandon prisoners and important booty.

Peace Treaty Is Signed By Austria

St. Germain.—Austria's signature to the peace treaty and the departure of Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian Chancellor and head of the peace delegation, for Vienna in an endeavor to brace up the unstable government have caused a feeling of relief in conference circles, where there has been great uneasiness lest the Vienna government should fall before the completion of the treaty.

The Bulgarian treaty probably will be handed to the Bulgarian delegation on Sept. 12 at the French Foreign Office, where arrangements have been made for an informal ceremony, the Bulgarians having expressed discontent in the proposed simple delivery of the treaty by the secretary of the conference.

Probably 21 days will be granted the Bulgarians to make observations on the treaty, and it is expected that the conference will take a short vacation while the Bulgarians have their under consideration.

Dr. Renner's cheerful acceptance of the treaty which he had frankly

Will Paralyze Steel Industry

Great Strike Is Declared Despite Appeal From President Wilson to Wait

Washington.—Regardless of the request of President Wilson that they take no action pending the coming industrial conference, representatives of the organized workers in the steel industry called a strike, effective September 22, to compel recognition of their unions, and of the principle of collective bargaining by the United States Steel Corporation.

The executive council of the 24 unions represented among the workers made known their decision in an announcement issued after they had requested the President, by telegraph, for a "more definite statement" as to the possibilities of arranging a conference with steel corporation officials, and after they had received a reply from the President asking that they withhold action until after the industrial conference.

Aliens In Canada

W. D. Euler Will Enquire How Many Are Still Interned

Ottawa.—The question of interned aliens is to be brought to the notice of the House of Commons by W. D. Euler, North Waterloo, who has given notice that he will enquire how many alien enemies are still interned in Canada, how many were interned after the signing of the armistice, and when will their release or repatriation be effected.

Mr. Euler will also ask if a British subject being a naturalized citizen of New Zealand, of German origin, may be interned in Canada, or if he may be deported to Germany.

$400,000 Wage-Increases

Winnipeg.—Although no official statement will be made until the end of the week, it was learned from an authoritative source that wage increases to the extent of $400,000 must be made by the Winnipeg Electric Railway, according to a decision reached by the Matheys board, which recently sat to investigate the men's grievances. The increases may be made retroactive, it is stated. This increase will affect carmen, conductors, motormen, trackmen, repairmen and inspectors.

To Control Cold Storage

Washington.—The first of the high cost of living laws proposed by President Wilson took form when the house agriculture committee ordered favorably reported a bill to control cold storage. All containers of food when placed in storage would be stamped "cold storage food" and the dates upon which they entered and left storage would be stamped.

Against Trade With Germany

Melbourne.—Premier Hughes, addressing a meeting of the Nationalists' Federation, said that Germany stood today the best organized nation in the world for a commercial war. He said some people had spoken to him of trade relations with Germany. If they wanted trade relations with Germany, they must get somebody else. (Cheers.)

denounced as impossible of acceptance, and the dignified good nature he displayed throughout the day's ordeal, when he alone faced the peace conference and signed the document which seals the fate of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and precludes the union of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and remaining fragment of the dual empire with Germany, proved the transcending feature of the ceremony and excited the imagination of all the allied delegates and spectators.

The feeling of friendliness among Austria's former enemies inspired by Dr. Renner's sportsmanlike conduct augurs well for Austria, and is generally commented upon as assurance that Vienna, with its two millions of population, and the four millions in the remaining bit of old Austria, comprising the present republic, may reasonably expect amelioration of the treaty terms in the near future if they make an honest effort to live up to them.

Serious Outbreak Of Rioting In Boston

Two Men and Boy Killed in Turbulent Outbreaks in Massachusetts Capital

Boston, Mass.—Two men and a boy were killed in turbulent outbreaks growing out of the police strike. There were numerous injuries of a minor nature to members of mobs, police officers and state guardsmen.

The most serious disturbances were in the vicinity of Scollay Square and South Boston. Cavalry charged the crowds, and a machine gun was used, one man being killed, and several wounded by its fire. Property damage was slight compared to that inflicted by the wild rampage of hoodlums.

One of the most serious elements in the complicated outlook was the possibility of sympathetic strikes by labor unions, which have declared their support of the policeman's union. Like the patrolmen's organization, most of these unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The crowd early became riotous and cavalrymen were sent to disperse it. The mob surged in and out of the square. Shots were fired and an unidentified man was killed. A woman was wounded in the arm, a middle-aged volunteer policeman was so badly beaten that he was removed to a hospital, and three cavalrymen were hit over the heads by other missiles and also were given hospital treatment. After military reinforcements arrived the square was finally cleared.

The South Boston district was so turbulent that it was considered one of the worst danger spots, and a large force of troops was thrown in there. For some time they had in check the mobs of the Peninsula section, but late at night conditions were so menacing that a machine gun crew was rushed over to aid them.

So fierce was the resistance of the angry crowd to the efforts of the guardsmen to preserve some sort of order that guns were levelled and the machine gun was put in position. All sorts of missiles were hurled at the guardsmen. A shower of stones so endangered the soldiers that machine gun crews were ordered to fire. One man was killed and several wounded.

Hurricane Hits Florida

It Is Believed That the Damage Will Exceed $2,000,000

Key West, Fla.—Lower Florida was paralyzed as a result of a violent hurricane that passed over that section. Three hundred and twenty frame buildings practically were razed, many church edifices wrecked and five retail stores, tipped over. The damage is estimated at more than $2,000,000.

Shipping off the coast met with disaster. Several small vessels were sunk and others were driven on to the reefs. A strong wind and rough sea prevented rescue work.

In the little town of Goulds, near Miami, eight buildings were totally destroyed and 13 partially demolished.

Although the property damage was enormous, no fatalities have been reported.

The steamer "Grampus," with a crew of 125 men, was sunk in Key West harbor, and the two-masted schooner U. V. Drew, bound from Tampico for Cuba, with a crew of seven men, was reported sunk off Key West harbor, where she had put in to escape the storm. Whether or not the crews escaped is not known. The navy radio station was not out of commission. Fruit and vegetable growers suffered the heaviest losses, the damage around Miami being estimated at half a million dollars.

Gave His Blood To Save Life

Kingston, Ont.—A case of unusual self-sacrifice is revealed in an operation performed in the Queen Military Hospital. Sergt. Thompson, a patient at the hospital, is a victim of pernicious anaemia, and the hospital doctors decided that a transfusion of blood was necessary. Volunteers were asked for, and the first to offer was Harry Parkes, an orderly at the hospital. The operation was carried out successfully. A pint of blood was drawn from Parkes and transfused into the system of Thompson. Both men are doing well, and the patient's life will be prolonged many years.

War Indemnity For Australia

Melbourne.—Premier Hughes has informed the members of the Australian cabinet that if Germany makes the first indemnity payment by 1920 Australia's share will be ten million pounds sterling. When the indemnity was fully paid, he stated, Australia's share would be nearly sixty million pounds sterling.

Postal Workers Set Own Path

Will Not Affiliate With Trades and Labor Council Nor Participate In Other Strikes

Winnipeg.—At a meeting of the Winnipeg branch of the Amalgamated Postal Workers, it was unanimously resolved not to affiliate with the Trades and Labor Council, and not to participate in any local or sympathetic strikes. The general executive was informed that the Winnipeg branch desires the clause permitting participation of a branch in local strikes deleted from the constitution. It was decided to demand from the government representation on any delegation that would meet the Cabinet to discuss the civil service reclassification bill.

The next meeting of the Winnipeg branch will discuss the reductions in salaries caused by the new cost of living bonuses, which bonus reduces salaries of most employees from $40 to $100 a year, and the changes desired in the classification bill.

Want Red Cross Help

Canada Can Aid Kolkach By Sending Supplies

Ottawa.—Kolkach and Denikine must be given support by means of munitions and Red Cross supplies if the menace of Bolshevism is to be swept from Russia, in the opinion of Lieut.-Col. Douglas D. Young, who was to France with the B.C.D., and who was a member of the British military mission in Siberia.

Col. Young laid the facts about Russia before the members of the House of Commons. What Canada can do to help the downtrodden Russian people is to send Red Cross supplies, said Col. Young, who stated the men were being sent down from the line with their wounds bound up with dirty rags, and there was an entire absence of medical and surgical needs in the country.

Last Of Canadian Contingent

Only 8,000 Canadians Now to Return From Overseas

London.—Col. Thomas Gibson, Toronto, assistant overseas minister; Col. A. G. Rankin, medical headquarters; and Col. Lang, Ottawa general staff, have sailed on the Caronia.

The Regina takes the last contingent from Wilkes camp. The Caronia leaves Glasgow with 300 families. The Aragua makes her last voyage as a hospital ship. Less than 8,000 Canadians now await repatriation. The sailings will gradually decrease from now onwards, parties being rarely more than 400.

Russian Evacuation Retarded

Bringing Away Many Women and Children Whose Lives Are in Danger

London.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of State for War, in a statement just issued denies that there has been any change in the British policy to evacuate North Russia.

Evacuation, however, has been retarded owing to the necessity for bringing away many Russians who are in danger of their lives, as well as women and children.

Mr. Churchill admits it will be impossible to effect a junction with Admiral Kolkach before winter. He denies that British troops are employed, or that the British Government has accepted any responsibility in the operations against Petrograd.

Sir Arthur Currie on War Gratitudes Hamilton, Ont.—General Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian commander, who was received with open arms by this city, stated that while he sympathized with the veterans in their efforts to secure a more liberal allowance, he thought the $2,000 gratuity asked would prove too great a burden for the country to bear. The veterans' plan to have a commission appointed to consider their claims was reasonable, he said, and should receive consideration. He was in favor of generous pensions, and said the present pension regulations would have to be readjusted.

Hold Up German Goods

Melbourne.—Although the cables state that trade between Germany and Britain has been resumed, many German goods arriving in Australia are still liable to seizure and confiscation. Commercial men are still waiting for the government to make some definite announcement regarding the embargo on trade relations with the Germans.

A Strong Navy For Australia

Strike Leaders Released

Were Greeted By Large Gathering of Sympathizers on Leaving Jail

Winnipeg.—After twenty-six days' incarceration, the eight strike leaders who have been held in the provincial jail pending their trial on charges of seditious conspiracy, were granted Chief Justice Mathers, who, together with Mr. Justice MacDonald and Mr. Justice Metcalfe, heard the arguments of counsel, read the decision of the court.

Bail was granted in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each.

The court found that it had not been proven that the accused would not appear to stand their trial, and the decision went on to state: "The court would not be justified in refusing bail on the sole ground that public safety might be endangered by permitting the accused to be at large."

"The decision, as read by Chief Justice Mathers, follows: 'Because of the great public interest involved in this prosecution, and because bail has once been refused by a brother judge, I asked my brothers, MacDonald and Metcalfe, to sit with me while hearing this application, and had the satisfaction of knowing that both concurred with me in the views here expressed.'

"I therefore order that the accused be admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each."

Immediately the court had adjourned, E. C. MacMurray, together with the bondsmen, left for the provincial jail, where the formal proceedings preceding the release of the accused were completed.

William Ivens was the first of the eight leaders to be released. His appearance in the doorway of the jail was the signal for cheers from the crowd of workers, numbering over 1,500, who had gathered to greet their leaders. "Someone in the crowd started singing, 'For he's a jolly good fellow,' and the song was immediately taken up. Ivens was 'chained' and carried around the square."

"I've gained eight pounds in the time I've been here," said Ivens, "and I think I'll go out and rob a bank to go back; they've treated me so well."

Ald. John Queen was the next to appear. He, too, received the same greeting from the crowd. The remainder of the men, Ald. A. A. Heaps, George Armstrong, R. E. Bray, W. E. Pritchard, R. J. Johns, and R. B. Russell came out together. "They were immediately seized by their friends and 'chained'."

Edmonton.—There are a number of things to be settled between the Dominion Government and us in connection with the matter, but I say go ahead with your schemes, and we will not hold you up."

This was the assurance given by Premier Stewart to a big delegation of landowners from Southern Alberta, who are interested in the promotion of irrigation in the south country, and came to the provincial ministry to ascertain their attitude in the matter.

Wheat Board Ruling

New Order Forbids Railway Companies to Transfer Wheat Without a Permit

Winnipeg.—The Canadian Wheat Board has issued an order (No. 42) which stipulates that no wheat shall be transferred by any railway company in the following areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan without a permit from the Canadian Wheat Board: In Alberta: The area bounded on the north by the C.P.R., Lacanville to Compoer; on the west the boundary line of the province; on the south the international boundary; and east by the Saskatchewan river. In Saskatchewan: C.P.R. subdivision, Quilgiff, Wilkie, Hardisty, Macklin, Biford, Helfield, Kerrobert, Coronation, Swift Current, Exupress, Maple Creek, Maynard, Shamovon and Glenora.

C.N.R. subdivision, Kindersley, Hanna, Elrose and Delisle. G.T.P. line, Transdorado, Artland, Biggar, Calgary branch, Cutknife branch and Alean, Battleford branch.

When it comes to speaking ill of their neighbors most people are there with the goods.

Sydney, N.S.W.—Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, whose mission here is the reorganization of the Australian navy, has completed his report. This provides for the establishment of an Australian naval unit, composed of eight modern battle cruisers, twelve light cruisers, twenty-four destroyers and twelve submarines and supply ships. This program is to be completed in 1923 at a cost of $25,000,000 annually.

It is considered doubtful that the government will accept these proposals.

Nationalization Of Mines Endorsed

United Mine Workers Also Resolve on Six-Hour Day in All Coal Mines

Cleveland.—Nationalization of mines as a general principle was approved by the convention of the U.M.W. of A., with only one dissenting voice, the sole object being slanted down when he declared nationalization an impossibility. He later explained that he only meant impossible for the present. Concrete proposals for nationalization are expected when the report of the committee on resolutions is presented with the discussion of this theme.

The convention voted with the same unanimity for the six-hour day, five-day week in all coal mines—to be incorporated in the demands presented to the mine operators at the joint wage conference at Buffalo, September 25, but deferred discussion of specific wage demands until later.

South Africa Ratifies Peace Treaty

Capetown, South Africa.—The House of Assembly has ratified the peace treaty.

Lieut.-Gen. J. C. Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, replying during the course of the debate in the House of Assembly on a motion for the ratification of the peace treaty, said he did not ask the house to approve, but merely to ratify the treaty. The Germans had been told that if there were parts of the treaty would could not be carried out they had the means of obtaining modification in the League of Nations, in which he foresaw the enemy countries would become members at no distant date.

Royal Party To War Workers

Most Democratic Royal Garden Party Ever Witnessed

An army of 10,000 war workers responded to the recent invitation of the King and Queen to a garden party in Buckingham Palace grounds, the most democratic royal garden party ever witnessed. The green lawns were filled to overflowing with the workers of the nation, and save for a few exceptions the men workers attended in dazzling silk hats and faultless morning coats.

Women predominated. There were women in khaki and women in blue—women who had "carried on" in the dark days of war; women who had organized; women who had filled the vacant places; women, indeed, from the battlefields, wearing French, Belgian and British decorations. Among the "victors" women present were the three commanders-in-chief of the three armies of the Women's Service—Dame Florence Leach, of the Q.M.A.A.C.; Dame Katherine Furse of the W.R.N.S., and Mrs. Gwynne Vaughan, D.B.E., of the W.R.A.F.'s.

What Drink Has Done

Prosperity and Happiness Which Prohibition Has Brought

One of the saddest of the many sad things that drink has done to us is the effect it has had on the mental and moral faculties of many of our clever public men. Whether in the form of beer, wine or spirits, alcohol poisons those higher centres of the brain which control the moral faculties, such as gentleness, kindness, selflessness, generosity, to a serious extent, before the other faculties are much affected.

We see this exemplified in the conduct of some of our public men who have attained to high positions by reason of their noble, helpful unselfishness, but who have become indifferent to the sufferings of women and children through the cruelty of drunken husbands, careless of their country's welfare, and contemptuous of the peace, prosperity and happiness which prohibition has brought.

We see the same thing in letters in the public press. Some of these letters are written by men clever enough in some ways, but who apparently have some faculties of their brains destroyed so that they desire to have the old bar-room days come back with all their horrors, even allowing women and children to suffer, and letting their country go to destruction. One cannot imagine any other reason for this change of conduct unless it be a change in some spots in the brain caused by constant saturation with alcohol.

An example of this was in a recent well written letter, in which the writer claimed that men enlisted to defend their liberty; especially the liberty to drink intoxicants, no matter whether it injured others or not. He asserted that 95 per cent. of the G.W.V.A. would vote against prohibition, and said "in my humble judgment prohibition has done us more harm morally and physically in the few years we have had it than the wide open bar ever did."

To that man's brain—the almost complete abolition of drunkenness, the great reduction in poverty and crime, the many empty porcellains and the peace, prosperity and happiness which prohibition has brought have no meaning whatever. He would undo all this that he might have his fill of drink.

If this man were correct, it would simply mean that nearly all the sober, temperate men who marched away to the defence of their country had returned home seriously fond of drink. I do not believe it. Such statements are a slander upon Canadian soldiers.—H. Arnott, M.B., M.C.P.S.

To Bar Undesirables

Great Britain Still Adheres to War Restrictions

Washington.—Great Britain alone of the great European nations has declined, for the present at least, to remove restrictions on admission of persons under foreign passports imposed during the war for the purpose of excluding political agitators, persons of doubtful loyalty and other undesirables.

This was developed by inquiry as to why Great Britain was not included in the list of countries to which the state department has announced passports will be granted on pre-war conditions after Sept. 15.

"Mother," asked little three-year-old Freddie, "are we going to have another day?" "Yes, dear, I hope so," was the reply. "If we don't, the father would go too," continued the little fellow. "Well, and don't you think he will?" asked his mother. "Oh, no," replied Freddie, "he could not leave his business."

Irrigation In Southern Alberta

The Fear of Crop Failure Is Entirely Removed

Starting from Bassano, we went north and east until the Red Deer river was seen in the distance.

Around Countess and Rosemary, wherever the water had been applied, splendid crops testified the reward. We halted at one farm where everything indicated, recent settlement. The owner came along with a broad smile, and to our inquiry "How are the crops?" he waved his hand, "Look at them." Over 100 acres of wheat, thick, heavy, even crop, just turning to a golden shade, and will be ready for cutting in a week. Thirty acres of flax, claimed our attention, a splendid crop, also on the turn. "That is some crop," we remarked, "what will it bring you?" "At the present price of flax seed it will be worth $1,800."

"The wheat will go better than 40 bushels to the acre." A nice patch of potatoes and garden vegetables were pointed out with pardonable pride by the owner.

He informed us that for three years he had been dried out on the other side of the Red Deer. He got the irrigated land this spring, broke it up, worked like a beaver to get his seed into the ground, "but oh, boys, it was worth it." She's some crop. He then added that it was one hell of a time across the river, but his troubles were over.

The smile on his wife's face as the site of the house to be built was pointed out made one smile in return. "We'll soon have trees and a lovely garden," was her remark.

From there we turned south and east towards Millicent, on the Trans-Canada line. The work of extending the ditches to keep ahead of land buyers is some problem for the irrigation department. The season is all too short for the amount of work to be done. Building a railway is a recreation compared with constructing a vast irrigation system.

Just think for a moment, what it means to bring water in sufficient quantity to supply every quarter section of irrigable land.

Settlement has just begun in the Millicent district, and thousands of acres will be under the plow by the fall of next year. From there by Brooks we cut west and south, passing by fine crops of wheat, flax, alfalfa, gardens a sight to behold, with sweet corn waving six and eight feet high. The first crops of alfalfa have been cut, and several second crops. We wanted to linger by these fields of alfalfa; the refreshing, sweet smell must be experienced to be appreciated. One thing we particularly noticed was the difference of the atmosphere in the irrigated district as compared with districts where the water had not yet been carried.

Approaching Brooks, we ran along splendid crops, some already cut, all just about ready for the binders. On the Duke of Sutherland's farm of some ten thousand acres, where irrigation has been continued, the results are most gratifying, heavy yields being assured.

We nearly got lost in the company's farm at Brooks, such growth is bewildering. Right in the open we stumbled on pumpkins, melons, squash, cucumbers, etc., etc., and towering above our heads sweet corn laden with heavy ears. The straw, the heavy crop was all gathered, but the party got finally together among the raspberries, and they tasted mighty good after the long hot drive.

The time was too short to realize all that had been done, and the splendid results. Anything can be grown, and a number of apple trees are making great headway towards fruit bearing.

A fine field of alfalfa outside the garden has been twice cut over this year, and a third crop is ready for the mow. We stumbled on a number of young hogs in this field, but they did not seem to realize that each day they were hastening their own doom.

From Brooks we turned straight north to Duchess, about twelve miles, and on leaving the town passed through a fine district, crops of all kinds showing heavy yields. Further on, a dry-farming stretch was entered, and followed by another stretch of irrigated lands.

Here the contrast was remarkable. In the dry-farming the farmers were using "headers," as the grain was probably ten inches high. The machines gather the grain in canyons, and will yield about eight to ten bushels to the acre. No hay or alfalfa, and the grass burned and bare. Immediately we crossed the next irrigation ditch, presto, everything changed. Waving crops on both sides, where cutting had been done, and the stocks were close together, and what would give returns of 40 to 60 bushels, and oats up to 100. The farmhouses appealed to us all, most-

World's Canals Are Compared

Soo Canal Leads the World in Volume of Business

The Detroit Free Press makes use of a British Foreign Office report on the Suez Canal as furnishing the means of comparison of the actual volume of traffic passing through the famous de Lesseps short cut to the Indies with the Panama and the Sault Ste. Marie canals. The Suez figures are in gross tons, likewise for the Atlantic-Pacific waterway. For the Soo canal they are in terms of short logs of freight. But even with all possible allowance for this different method of computation the Canadian and American canals at the Falls of Sault Ste. Marie are far in the lead.

For the fiscal years 1915 to 1918 the Panama totals are $416,767, $396,529, $330,821 and $271,339. The greatest year in the history of the Suez canal was 1912, with a total of 28,008,945 tons, and for subsequent years down through 1917 the tonnage was 27,737,180, 26,866,340, 21,027,457, 16,894,299 and 11,414,482. No figures are given for 1918.

Soo takes the Soo with seventy-two million tons in 1912, seventy-nine in 1914, a fall to fifty-five in 1914, seventy-one in 1915, and in 1916, 17 and '18 respectively 91,883,219, 89,813,898 and 85,680,327. Multiply by two the greatest year. The Suez ever had, treble the Panama's biggest, add them together, and the Soo canals are still in the lead.

A Visitor From Sweden

Sent By Government to Study Alfalfa in Western Hemisphere

"The system of experimental farms adopted by the Dominion and Provincial governments of Canada is immensely superior to that in vogue in the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Philip Herfrid Witte, an expert who has been sent by the government of Sweden to study alfalfa in the western hemisphere, and who has now visited most of the states in the union, and nearly all the provinces in Canada. Experimental farms on this side of the line, the Swedish expert points out, have a cohesion and correlation that is totally lacking in Uncle Sam's territory, where each state runs its experiments on its own hunk, with but regard for what is being done in the neighboring territory or under the aegis of Washington. The result is that the information gained is largely of only local value, and extremely hard to digest in the bulk, owing to the multiple records and unrelieved details.

Up to comparatively recent years Sweden has been dependent upon clover and other soft grasses for its forage, although alfalfa has been grown with fair success in many parts of the country. It is for the purpose of gathering information that will be of value to the dairy industry of Southern Sweden that Dr. Witte was delegated to visit America. Dr. M. O. Malte, Dominion astronomer from the Ottawa Experimental Farm, is accompanying the distinguished visitor in his journey of research. Their Canadian investigations recently took them to the British Columbia Colony Farm at Essondale, near New Westminster, where several fine stands of nutritious alfalfa were examined.

"Climatic conditions in Southern Sweden, Dr. Witte points out, are very similar to those obtaining in some parts of British Columbia, which makes his researches on the coast of particular importance. He is convinced that on his return the Swedish Government will undertake to introduce alfalfa growing on a large scale among dairy farmers.—P. W. L.

Cotton in the Far North

Flowers grow profusely in many parts of the Arctic regions. One of the most frequently met with is the cotton plant. Northern miners have a saying that wherever cotton blooms it is not far below. One may walk for miles, between the months of June and August, through fields of cotton plants in flower, the white, silky tops swaying in the Arctic breeze. At present little use is made of it, from an industrial point of view, except where the down is gathered for filling pillows. The flowers bloom luxuriantly, as is natural where the sun shines continuously during the summer months. Among others, the flower-bush may gather purple harkspur, bluebells, monk's head, primroses, asters, lilies-of-the-valley and even a kind of Arctic geranium, pink or white in color.

Empire Must Pay for Fleet

Vancouver, B.C.—A special cable from Sydney, N.S.W., to the Vancouver World says:

"Unless the United Kingdom and the Dominions are prepared to put their hands in their pockets it will be impossible to raise the money for the fleet. It is a simple question of the empire knows in its heart is vital to its existence," said Admiral Lord Jellicoe in a forceful speech delivered to a large and influential audience here.

"Tell me something."

"Bygone."

"Do you say a light is light completed or light complexioned?"

"Either way you're liable to wind up in a snarl. Say she's a pronounced blonde."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Premier Botha The Statesman

Exceptional Character of South African Leader Receives High Praise At His Death

London.—Pages of obituary notices, special articles, photographs and incidents in his career testify to the importance to the position held by Premier Botha in the eyes of the British public. Experts who analyze the work and character of the deceased, emphasize less his astonishing career than his work as an empire statesman.

His stand in favor of the maintenance of the South African Union and his difficulties with the Nationalists in regard thereto are recalled. At a recent congress of the South African party in Bloemfontein he appeared, for an honest reunion of the Dutch elements, based on recognition of the act of union, and the hope is expressed that this appeal of the great statesman may effect a reconciliation, which was one of the great objects of his life.

A telegram issued by Right Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, former prime minister, reads:

"The death of Premier Botha is, in my judgment, as great a personal loss to the empire as it could have sustained. His talents as a commander in the field were of the highest order. In the sphere of statesmanship he showed qualities equally as great and even more rare. He will always be remembered as entitled to the main credit for the success of the most splendid demonstration in our history of leading a unifying power for freedom and full self-government. For years I enjoyed and prized his friendship, and I deeply deplore his death."

A vivid picture of Premier Botha at the peace conference, knowing that his health was precarious, yet not struggling against the possibility of death, is drawn by a writer in the Daily News, who states that at the conference, "everyone hung on to his words and his influence was constantly felt behind the scenes of questions such as mandates, Poland, reparations, etc. He was always for moderation and his weight on the British Empire delegation was decisive."

A writer in the Morning Post says that it was at the suggestion of Premier Botha that Premier Lloyd George met Herzog, the South African Nationalist leader. "Lloyd George's addresses," stated this writer, "obviously bear the marks of Botha's statesmanship."

It is learned that Premier Botha left England a worn-out man and suffered a bad heart attack when between Plymouth and Madeira from which he never fully recovered.

The news of Botha's death was received with the greatest regret at the foreign office, where officials had been impressed with his strong character and fine intellect. During the peace conference, one official told an interviewer that Premier Botha was one of the most remarkable and popular figures at the peace conference. He had very little to say, never anything for publication. But his influence was great. Everyone respected his intellect, realizing that there was much careful thinking behind his views."

Dutch and Belgian Dispute

Paris.—While rumors have been current in Paris during the past few days of increased tension between Holland and Belgium because of the Dutch reply to the Belgian case on the revision of the treaty of 1839, with intimations of a rupture of negotiations, the real attitude of the Belgians remains one purely of expectancy. The flying visit of Foreign Minister Hymans to Premier Clemenceau yesterday had as its object a matter entirely unconnected with this question.

Ask Province To Make Probe

Judge Robson Requests Provincial Police to Look for Profiters

Ottawa.—Judge Robson, chairman of the board of commerce, has wired all the provincial attorney-generals asking that provincial police be detailed immediately for an examination of conditions in the local respectation, the quantities on hand, and the prevailing prices, and to report to the board.

It is asked further that the provinces engage counsel to prepare cases to be submitted to the board in any situation where there is a suspicion of unwarrantably charging inordinate prices. The board will deal with these cases as reported, as it cannot be all over the country at once. It will appoint competent sub-commissioners to investigate specific complaints, and will base its order upon their reports. Instructions have been given that all these sittings be public and open to the press, as will be the procedure with the board itself.

The first sitting of the board will be held in Montreal.

Unwise Advertising

One Method That Got the Enterprising Merchant in Wrong

Many are the ways of advertising, but an unwise method, as it turned out, was discovered by the manager of a Kansas dry goods store, who arranged for a motion picture to be secretly taken of a lady making a purchase, and then went on with his plan for attracting other customers by having the scene displayed on the screen of a local motion picture theatre. Whether the lady saw it or interested friends told her is immaterial; she disliked the idea of appearing in public as an actress. What made the affair even less pleasant was the impression created that she had been paid to act as a customer. So she sued the store, and the Supreme Court of Kansas handed down a verdict against the defendant on the ground that taking and using the motion picture was a violation of the plaintiff's right of privacy. The case establishes a good precedent, and supports the wholesome truth that there are persons who dislike publicity.—Christian Science Monitor.

Carnegie Estate to Pay Seven Millions Income Tax

New York.—About $7,000,000 of the $30,000,000 left by the late Andrew Carnegie will find its way to the United States Treasury as inheritance taxes, according to an estimate made by tax experts here.

Some doubt regarding the income tax on bequests made to Premier Lloyd George and other Britishers seems to exist. It is pointed out that if the principal from which the annuities are paid is sent to England, there will be only the inheritance tax to pay here, whereas if the annuity is paid from this side, the beneficiary abroad will be bound to American income tax law.

French Heroine of the War Endured Many Hardships

A story of hardships while held prisoner by the Germans was told by Miss Marie Louise Gombier, who arrived in New York on the French liner La Lorraine, en route to Los Angeles, where she said, she to become the adopted daughter of Mrs. L. Dowdy.

Going from a convent in the early part of the war to visit her parents in Ypres, she found upon her arrival there that her home was in possession of German officers, who had erected a wireless station in the house. She succeeded in destroying the wireless, was captured and accused as a spy, and was to have been shot.

Through the intervention of a German officer, she was saved from death and placed in a cart with two wounded French soldier prisoners to be taken to a jail. She travelled in the cart from one crowded prison to another for five weeks, she said, until she was nearly dead from exhaustion.

During a drive by the 95th Canadian regiment, she was rescued and became a nurse in a Canadian hospital, and, upon verification of her story of destroying the German wireless plant, was given a Croix de Guerre, to which a palm was later added when she was wounded. She met Mrs. Dowdy while engaged in that work.

The Scourge Of Tuberculosis

Scientific Treatment and Prevention of This Dread Disease

Dr. Roseman, in his work on "Preventative Medicine and Hygiene," points out that as tuberculosis is an infection mainly spread from man to man through direct association, and secondarily from cattle through infected milk, the preventive measures fall into two categories: (1) avoiding infection and (2) increasing the resistance of the individual through personal hygiene and that both are essential in the prevention and control of the disease.

(1) Since tuberculosis is a communicable disease, one of the most important preventive measures consists in the isolation of those suffering from the disease. It is here that we can realize the importance of the sanatorium not only in providing scientific treatment for tubercular patients, but more important still in the great part it plays at isolating patients and helping to arrest the spread of infection. It should be remembered that patients having tuberculosis germs in the sputum, and especially what are known as the open or advanced cases, are the great menace in the spread of infection, and hence of vital importance to the public health that provision be made for the proper isolation of such cases. Someone has said that every case of tuberculosis isolated means at least three less new infections; many would put the number of infections at a much higher figure. It is a noteworthy fact that tuberculosis has diminished most in those countries where the most use has been made of adequate sanatorium accommodation.

Proper living on the part of the individual, avoiding the infection and keeping physically fit, will go a long way in minimizing the risk of tubercular infection.

Bodily resistance is built up by adequate rest, fresh air, good food, sunshine, and avoiding all excesses. Avoid the common drinking cup, other people's pipes, dusty atmospheres, and milk from untested cattle unless properly pasteurized. In a word, live and let live.

Early diagnoses of cases is of the utmost importance in the matter of prevention. When taken at the onset, the outlook for the complete recovery of the average patient is of the brightest. When, as so often happens, the case runs six months to a year or more before the proper treatment is undertaken, the chances of recovery gradually fade from bright to hopeless. Many patients delay obtaining medical advice for what they consider "only a cold" or "bronchitis" or a "run-down condition," who would not hesitate giving prompt attention to a motor running on three cylinders. These are the cases which are so largely accountable for the heavy mortality from tuberculosis. "Treatment too long delayed" could be written on numberless gravestones throughout our country's cemeteries. The physician in failing to make an early diagnosis of the exact nature of the patient's illness is also to some extent responsible for failing to recognize many incipient cases of the disease. Methods of diagnosis are now so refined that tuberculosis can now be recognized at a stage where in earlier days it could only be suspected.

This is one of a series of articles on tuberculosis which will be published in this paper in the interests of a campaign being conducted by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire to raise $40,000 for the erection of a children's pavilion at the provincial sanatorium at Port Qu'Appelle, Sask.

This pavilion, which is now under construction, is to be used for the treatment of children threatened with or suffering from tuberculosis. The Daughters of the Empire rely on, and are confident they will obtain the co-operation and support of, the people of Saskatchewan in this splendid endeavor on behalf of the children of the province. Please forward subscriptions to Mrs. D. M. Balfour, Provincial Treasurer I.O. D.E., 2046 Robinson Street, Regina, Sask.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly, Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor
Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to, which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womankind is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvellous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Maudslayi and Bottenant every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

"Fool," he said to himself. And because he could think of no more specific expression to suit his feelings, and because expression of any kind brought a sort of relief, he kept on repeating the word, "Fool, fool, fool!" And as his self-condemnation gradually won him back to a sense of perspective he became aware of the danger of his position. He went over the events of the recent months, and tried to be rational. He had left his ranch home to better himself, to learn things, to rise to be somebody. He had worked harder than ever before, at more disagreeable employment; he had lived in conditions that were almost nauseating, and what had he learned? That you can't beat a card man at his own game, price sixty dollars, and that the gallery seats are cheaper, and sometimes safer, than the orchestra.

Then all of a sudden he thought of Reenie. He had not thought of her much of late; he had been so busy in the days, and so fired at nights, that he had not thought of her. True, she was always in the back of his mind; in his subconscious mind, perhaps, but he seemed to have put her away, like his skill with revolver and lasso. Now she burst upon him again with all that beauty and charm which had so magnetised him in those glad, golden days, and the frank cleanness of her girlhood made him disgusted and ashamed. It was to fit himself for her that he had come to town, and what sort of mess was he making of it? He was going down instead of up. He had squandered his little money, and now he was squandering his life. He had been drunk.

Dave's nature was one in which emotions were accelerated with their own intensity. When he was miserable his misery left no place in his soul for any ray of sunshine. It fed on itself, and grew to amazing proportions. It spread out from its original cause and enveloped his whole life. It incited all his relationships, past, present, and future. When a cloud of gloom settled upon him he felt that it would never lift, but became heavier and heavier until he was crushed under its weight. And the sudden manner in which Reenie had now invaded his consciousness intensified the blackness in which he was submerged, as lightning darkens the storm. He remembered that last night with the moon light wooing her white face, until his own body had eclipsed it in a warmer passion, and he heard her words, "I know you are true and clean."

True and clean. "Yes, thank God, I am still that," he cried, springing suddenly to his feet and commencing to dance. He was tired, but nothing that won't wash off. Perhaps, and he stopped at the great thought struck him, "perhaps it was the luckiest thing in the world that the booze did put me out last night. . . . It'll wash off."

Your Eyes
Granulated Eyelids, Eyes inflamed by exposure to Sun, Dust and Wind are relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. No Smarting, Just Eye Comfort. At Your Druggists or by Mail. For Buck of the Eye free write to Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago.

There was considerable comfort in this thought. He had wasted some precious months, but he had not gone too far, and there was still time to turn back. But he must begin work at once on the serious business of life. With this resolve his spirits revived with a rush, and he found himself whistling as he completed his toilet. There was no breakfast for the late sleepers Sunday mornings, and he went at once into the warm air outside. The sunshiny fondled his body, his hands, his face. The spring ozone was in his lungs; it was good to be alive. Alive—for a purpose. Well, he would start at once; how could he begin a life of purpose today? He was quite set on the necessity of doing something, but quite at sea as to what that something should be. It occurred to him for the first time that society had been much more generous in supplying facilities for a boy to go down hill than to go up.

He became aware of a bell ringing. At first the sound had fallen only on his subconsciousness, but gradually he became aware of it, as one being slowly recalled from sleep. Then he remembered that it was Sunday, and that was a church bell. He had often heard them, on Sundays. He was about to dismiss the matter when a strange impulse came into his mind. Why not go to church? He had never been in church, and he felt that the surroundings of the pool hall would be much more congenial. He had little stomach for church. What if the rest of the gang should learn he had been at church?

"I believe you're afraid to go," he said to himself. That settled it. In a few minutes he was at the church door, where an oldish man, after surveying him somewhat dubiously, gave him a formal handshake and passed him into the hands of an usher. The usher led him down an aisle and crowded him into a small pew with several others. There were many unoccupied pews, so Dave concluded it must be a church place to fill them full as far as they went. He also observed that the building was filling up from the rear, notwithstanding the efforts of the ushers to cajole the people farther down the aisles. Dave reflected that the custom here was quite different from the theatre, especially the "rush" gallery, where everyone scrambled for the front seats.

He was very conscious of being observed, and there was an atmosphere of formality and, as it seemed to him, of strained goodness that made him uncomfortable. But presently the organ commenced, and diverted his interest from himself. It was very wonderful. His position commanded a view of the organist, and Dave marvelled at the manner in which that gentleman's feet floundered about, and how his hands flourished up and down, and occasionally jumped from the keyboard altogether to jerk out a piece of the machine. Then the choir filed in. They were all dressed alike, and the men had of his jaws that he prevented an explosion of amusement. He was still feeling very happy when a side door opened and a man came in and ascended the steps to the pulpit. He moved very solemnly, and when he sat down, rested his head on his hand for a minute. Then he looked over the audience, and Dave thought that his expression was one of approval. Then he looked at the ceiling.

"He feels safe in his seat," thought Dave. "No buckin' in this bunch. Well."

The organ had broken forth in a great burst of sound and everyone was standing up. Dave did so, too, belatedly. Then everybody sang. They seemed to know just what to sing. It was all new to Dave, but it sounded all right. It made him feel just like the sunshine did after the storm. Then they all sat down. Dave became more alert, and was not caught napping in this movement.

There was a short prayer, which Dave did not understand, and more singing by everybody, and then the ushers came around for the collection. Dave did not know how much to put on the plate, but he supposed a good seat like this in the theatre would cost a dollar, so he put on that amount. He noticed that his neighbor on one side put on a nickel, and on the other side nothing at all. He began to think he must have made a mistake. All this time the organ was playing boisterously, but suddenly it dropped to a low, meditative theme, and Dave began to feel it would stop altogether. But no; a young woman was standing up in the choir; she was pretty, with quite a different air and finer comeliness than that of the theatre girls of the night before. In some vague way, she seemed reminiscent of Reenie Hardy. Dave's introspection was not deep enough to know that any fine girl would remind him of Reenie Hardy.

Then she began to sing, and he felt again that the sunshine was playing about him, but this time he knew the birds, too, and the ripple of the distant water, and the stir of the spruce trees, and he could see the lattice of sunlight through their dark leaves playing on the brown grass, and there was a smell of distant wood smoke, and the glow of dying coals. . . . He was swaying gently in his seat, held in the thrall of her voice, and suddenly he was glad he had put a dollar on the plate. He could not follow all the words, but it was something about a land where the sun would never go down. Well — no doubt the preacher would tell them more about it.

Then there was a long Trayer by the preacher. He began addressing the Deity as all night and all knowing, and then spent many minutes in drawing his attention to "debts which had evidently escaped His notice, and in offering suggestions for the better government of the universe. He dwelt on the humility and penitence of the congregation, including himself, and at this point Dave's unorthodox ear began to detect a false note. He looked about from preacher to congregation, and saw no evidence of penitence or humility. "If God is all-knowing," said Dave to himself, "that preacher is going to get in wrong. Why, he couldn't put over that humility bunk on me."

At length it seemed that the sermon was really going to commence, but a well dressed man came down the aisle and read a long financial statement. Dave gathered from it that the Lord was pretty hard pressed for ready cash. "No wonder," thought he, "if they all give nickels and nothings. Pretty well dressed bunch, too."

Finally the preacher took the meeting in hand again, and announced his text, but Dave soon forgot it in trying to follow the sermon. It was an orthodox exposition of the doctrine of the atonement. Dave would not have known it by that name, and there were many expressions which he could not understand, but out of a maze of phrases he found himself being slowly shocked into an attitude of uncompromising hostility. There was no doubt about it; the preacher was declaring that an innocent One had been murdered that the guilty might go free.

Province Seeks Own Powers

British Columbia Wants Jurisdiction to Deal With Profligating.
Vancouver. — The mayors and Reeves of 27 British Columbia municipalities met here, with Hon. J. W. DeB. Farris, attorney-general, to discuss measures for relieving the cost of living, and adopted a resolution suggesting the appointment of a provincial board of commerce for British Columbia, with full judicial and administrative powers, to be appointed and administered by the federal government.

It was argued that the existing board of commerce, working from Ottawa, was too distant to be fully effective on the Pacific coast, and the feeling was that this federal board should be supplemented by a body with provincial jurisdiction, but with equal powers. The gathering asked the board of commerce to establish a legal business print "spread" as an initial basis upon which profits could be figured where essential commodities were concerned.

A Chemical Entente
At the recent annual meeting of the Association of British Chemical Manufacturers it was announced that a friendly understanding had been come to between the British and French chemical industries for co-operation in international development. The British association now represents £270,000,000 of capital invested, and continued rapid growth in the department of dyestuffs, and fine chemicals is assured. The importance of chemical progress in its relation to industrial efficiency and the life of a nation cannot be overestimated, and everything possible will be done to hold together the amazing advance made in Great Britain in response to the necessity for sudden development during war time.

Mounted Police Strength

For First Time in History Now in Excess of Sixteen Hundred

Regina, Sask. — For the first time in the history of the force, the strength of the R.N.W.M.P. is in excess of 1,600 all ranks. Shortly after the outbreak of the war 500 men were taken on for a period of one year, bringing the strength to more than 1,500.

At the expiration of the year these men enlisted in various units when they learned there was no chance of their force going overseas as a unit. Continued enlistments and drafts brought the force to low ebb about a year ago.

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA WAS GIVEN UP

EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURED HER

Mothers should look well after their children during hot summer months, as this is the time of year when the young ones are liable to all kinds of bowel complaints.

If your children have any looseness of the bowels do not experiment with new and untried remedies. Get one having stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 74 years. Don't accept a substitute and perhaps endanger your child's life.

Mrs. Willis Coupland, Sudridge, Ont., writes: "Over four years ago my little girl, then a baby two months old, took diarrhoea. I took her to a doctor, but to no avail. After he had given her up, I read of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and immediately got a bottle. Within two days she was improving fast. I can never praise it enough. I hope some poor sufferers will see this letter and lead them to a friendlier life. Price 35 cents. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Airship Program Reduction
London, England. — In accordance with the government's policy of economy, it has been decided to reduce the airship program, and work on several airships of the R-34 class which were nearing completion has been stopped. Certain airships and airship stations are to be placed at the disposal of commercial firms for the purpose of the development of commercial flying.

Order Farms Seized
Berlin. — The Prussian minister of agriculture has empowered the local communities to seize farms whose owners refuse to enter labor contracts with their employees, or who fail to live up to the wage scales and where terms ended by contracts. The lands to be seized are to be administered by the respective communities for the common good.

Open Northern Lands To Ranchmen

Grazing Laws to Be Changed, According to Interior Department News

Ottawa. — The Department of the Interior has announced important changes in the regulations regarding grazing leases which are of particular interest to the West. The drought conditions which have prevailed in the southern portion of the prairie provinces have resulted in representations being made to the department by the possessors of small herds of from 50 to 500 cattle, for permission to move to lands farther north where better grazing facilities offer. Changes have been made in the grazing regulations to permit of this. There are large areas of land in these northern prairie districts which, because of remoteness from settlement, liability to frost, or swampy or gravelly character of the soil, are not adapted to agricultural production, but which are, nevertheless, quite suitable for grazing purposes. The Minister of the Interior, Hon. Arthur Meighen, after careful consideration of the representations made, decided it would be promoting the best interests of this region as a whole if ranchers who wished to establish themselves permanently upon such areas and who have the proper qualifications, were permitted to migrate and settle there. In no case, however, will this arrangement be allowed to interfere with any promising movement to settle farmers on lands suitable for agricultural purposes.

Under the present grazing regulations leases are limited to a term not exceeding ten years, and to an area not larger than 12,000 acres, and in no case may a lease be issued to other than a British subject. With these conditions in force it was demonstrated that ranchers of the kind desired would not move their herds and establish their homes in the northern country, where climatic conditions were such that they would be compelled to provide fodder for the winter months and to erect corrals and sheds for the protection of their stock, unless greater permanency of tenure were offered and in some cases, owing to sparsity of vegetation, a larger area per head of stock.

Do Not Want Canadians to Remain in England

London. — The proposal to establish a permanent hostel for the benefit of Canadian soldiers who have taken their discharge in England does not meet with much approval from the Canadian authorities here. The opinion is prevalent that many of these men and their wives who have decided to remain in England will in a couple of years or so be country anxious to return to Canada. One authority says that, at the present time a certain class of demobilized soldiers, who have been in England during the past five years are a bit dazed at the wages now being paid, forgetting that the cost of living is steadily mounting. It is expected that joint British and Canadian government action will eventually have to be taken over this matter.

"If I'm disturbing you, father, I'll stop. I'm only practicing to kill time," said the young girl, pictured in Judge.

"Better stop, my dear, I think you've killed him."

Visitor: "Is your baby intelligent?"
Father: "Intelligent! Why, if she wasn't she'd never be able to understand the language my wife talks to her!"

He: She asked me if we were engaged, but I told her I was your friend, plain and simple.
She: You needn't have said you were simple, too.

Dismissing Of German Airships

Some Were Destroyed During Last Weeks Of War

Berlin, Germany. — Neither the Imperial Air Office nor the War Office have vouchsafed any comment as yet upon the allied press report of the destruction of Germany's remaining Zeppelins. The former department has denied any knowledge of the matter, but the latter says that on its authority that some of the German airships which were to be handed to the Allies were dismantled during the last weeks of the war as being of no further use for military purposes. Also that seven others were destroyed by their own crews about the time of the sinking of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, although nothing was published in the press at the time.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their feet into high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests, which merely make the corn grow larger. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freeze-one applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freeze-one, which costs very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and instantly shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

Triumphs Of British Shipbuilding

Remarkable Results Achieved in Spite of the Stress of War

It is known to everybody that the construction of new British naval vessels was carried through with feverish haste during the war, but the world is only now becoming acquainted with the remarkable results which were achieved in spite of the stress of war conditions. In peace time it is the custom of the British Admiralty not to accept vessels except after exhaustive preliminary trials, naturally, also, it is customary for the shipbuilders to take minute care of every detail of the engines and other equipment. War production, however, reached so high a stage of efficiency that the Admiralty was able to dispense with these trials. High-powered vessels went to sea after a basin trial and steamed at full speed in a very short time. H.M.S. Resolution, for example, steamed straight out into the North Sea before daylight, reached her full power within one hour, and ran without a hitch to her station in the Fifth of Forth. Many battleships and cruisers went to sea fully commissioned and ran the necessary trials on their way to the appointed naval base. One particular destroyer raised her full power within seven minutes of leaving the piers on her first voyage. Only marine engineers, who know how the trials of a well-built ship may be ruined by a trifling flaw in one of a multitude of details, can fully appreciate the meaning of this series of successful flying starts from the fitting-out basin. They form a magnificent tribute to the soundness of British engineering. Nothing but the best designs, the most accurate construction, and the most skilful assembling could have produced such a triumph.

Hollanders Find Kaiser Expensive

Amersongen. — Under the heading "An expensive foreigner in Amersongen" the Amsterdam Handelsblad a copy of which has been received here, says nineteen policemen, whose salaries total 75 guilders daily have been guarding the former German emperor since November. The ex-Kaiser has already cost our country a total of 20,000 guilders," says the newspaper, "truly an expensive foreigner." It is understood here that there has been no change in the status of the former German emperor with the Netherlands government and that he is still confined to certain limits.

Value Of Mixed Farming

Steady Growth of Saskatchewan's Dairy Industry

The output of creamery butter in Saskatchewan this year will easily exceed one million pounds and will be worth about $600,000. It will be seen, therefore, that Saskatchewan farmers do something else besides growing grain of a high quality. The growth of the dairy industry in this province has been remarkable. In 1910, 381,993 pounds of creamery butter were manufactured, in 1917, 465,717, and last year 667,283 pounds.

Wants Prince On Tiger Hunt

A strange letter reached the Prince of Wales not very long since from a small Indian village at the foot of the Himalayas. It was written on a piece of dried tiger skin, apparently with a pointed stick and some red dye. The writer stated that his father had had the honor of escorting the late King Edward when he went tiger shooting in the jungle, and expressed the hope that should the Prince ever feel inclined to attempt the hunt of the Himalayas, the latter would honor him by accepting him as one of the guides for that somewhat hazardous adventure.

Ex-Kaiser Not Wealthy

Total Amount of Cash When He Flew to Holland Was $50,000 Marks.
Berlin. — The total amount of cash former Emperor William had on his person when he fled to Holland was $50,000 marks, according to a statement made by Dr. Albert Suidekum, Prussian minister of finance.
Dr. Suidekum also declared that a careful investigation had failed to prove that the former German imperial family has capital "planted" abroad. The minister added that he expected shortly to announce the proposed plan of settlement of the Hohenzollern family's financial affairs. This would not be dictated "by pettiness or malice" and would not call forth unjustified criticism.

Indian Farms Do Well

Saskatchewan Indians will reap a fair crop as the result of the extensive greater production scheme on which they entered a year ago, under the stimulus of the war. In 1918 much raw prairie was plowed in readiness for seeding this year. Although drought has proved a handicap in some of the reserves, in the main the crop has turned out well, and an average of fifteen bushels of wheat an acre will reward the red men for their efforts.

Other Tablets Not Aspirin At All

Only Tablets Marked With "Bayer Cross" Are Aspirin

If You Don't See the "Bayer Cross" on the Tablets, You Are Not Getting Aspirin — Only Acid Imitation

Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are now made in Canada by a Canadian Company. No German interest whatever, all rights being purchased from the United States Government.

During the war, acid imitations were sold as Aspirin in pill boxes and various other containers. The "Bayer Cross" is your only way of knowing that you are getting genuine Aspirin.

Aspirin is the trade mark, registered in Canada, of Bayer Manufacture of Monocaceticacidester of Salicylic acid.

German Pianos All Ready

The report comes from Great Britain that the Huns have 45,000 pianos ready to dump on the markets of the world, and at much cheaper prices than those existing now. This is a sharp reminder that the Huns are looking out for export trade and that it is necessary for the British Empire to get ahead of them.

The Huns "have got" to work and work hard in order to meet their indomitable, and this means that other nations will have to work a little bit harder than they. These pianos are playing a tune which Canada should listen to.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly, as it generally does — the Tablets will bring the baby safely through.

Valuable Bulletin Issued by the Department of Agriculture

In canned goods there are two kinds of spoilage. The first is called "flat sour," which includes all forms of bacterial growth that develop within the food. The second type of spoilage to guard against is mould, a plant growth that is distinctly different from the bacterial growth.

Moulded foods are seldom more than surface affected, because air is necessary for its growth, but the "flat sour" spoilage means that the entire can must be discarded. Bulletin No. 93 of the Dominion Experimental Farms, "Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables for Home Use," which may be had on application to the publications branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, gives full information on the various methods of canning, including old and valuable recipes as well as new ones, which have been found valuable.

Canning has become the most popular means of preserving large quantities of fruit and vegetables, and since these are plentiful during the summer months and at other times difficult to obtain, it is important to preserve quantities during the growing season for use in winter.

Moreover, the use of an abundant supply of fruit and green vegetables is essential to health at all seasons of the year.

Ask Leniency for Canadians

London. — A petition is being promulgated here for a reduction of the sentence of 12 months upon several Canadian soldiers in connection with the Epsom riots.

When Justice Darling passed sentence, he excused the prisoners from hard labor on account of their war service, and added that there seemed to be no difference between their conduct and some of the people belonging to this country, except that the latter were, if anything, worse.

Arguments were subsequently addressed to the court of criminal appeal for a reduction of sentence, but without effect.
